

Spoil your taste buds with the wide variety of cuisines which Singapore has to offer. Singaporean food reflects the country's multi-cultural population, which houses everyone from Chinese to Malay and Indian to Peranakan. Each of these cultural groups have intermingled in Singapore for decades, and no visit to Singapore is complete without a taste of some of the following local delicacies:

CHILLI CRAB

One of Singapore's most well-known signature dishes, made by frying crabs in a fragrant red sauce.

"My local mates recommend No Signboard for chilli crab. I also like salt and black pepper crab."

HOKKIEN PRAWN MEE

A combination of yellow and white noodles fried with seafood and lard.

HAINANESE CHICKEN RICE

Often known as Singapore's national dish, this is a favorite among locals and tourists alike.

FRIED RADISH CAKE

A snack made with steamed rice flour and white radish, fried with egg and garnished with spring onions.

FISH HEAD CURRY

A Singaporean dish of Ikan Merah (red snapper fish), cooked in a spicy-hot curry with vegetables.

CHAR KWAY TEOW

Translating to "stir-fried ricecake strips", this is a popular noodle dish around the Southeast Asian region.

ROTI PRATA

An Indian dish that is similar to a pancake, generally eaten with curry or sugar.

BAK KUT TEH

A soup made with pork ribs and spices, also called "Meat Bone Tea".

SENTOSA ISLAND

WWW.SENTOSA.COM.SG

Sentosa Island is a popular island resort in Singapore, with attractions like a 2-km long sheltered beach, Fort Siloso, two golf courses, 14 hotels, and the Resorts World Sentosa. Resorts World Sentosa Singapore is the first ever integrated resort on Sentosa Island, which includes highly anticipated and exciting new attractions such as Universal Studios Singapore™ and FestiveWalk™, and the soon-to-open Marine Life Park™.

GETTING THERE

The island is accessible by the Sentosa Express monorail, which can be boarded at the Vivo City Shopping Mall. It can also be reached by Cable Car, which originates from Mount Faber and passes through HarbourFront en route to its final destination at Imbiah lookout. Visitors can also access the island via the Sentosa Boardwalk, which is a leisurely stroll from VivoCity Shopping Mall's waterfront promenade, made easy by two-way canopy-covered travellers. The Sentosa Boardwalk is a new and exciting dimension of the Sentosa Experience, which enhances the seamless accessibility and connectivity between the island and the mainland.

HAWKER CENTRES

These cooked food centres are open-air complexes that house a variety of inexpensive food stalls. Typically found in city centres, they sprang up following rapid urbanization in the 1950s and 1960s, in part to help address the problem of unhygienic food preparation by unlicensed street hawkers. In Singapore, hawker centres are beginning to lose popularity due to growing affluence, and many are being replaced by indoor, air-conditioned food courts.

MAKANSUTRA GLUTTONS BAY

WWW.BIT.LY/GLUTTONSBAY

"I'd suggest starting with the satay sticks and whatever takes your fancy at Makansutra Gluttons Bay, which you can directly access using the underground tunnels from the Swissotel." - Friends of Iron Mountain

MAXWELL ROAD HAWKER CENTRE

WWW.BIT.LY/HAWKERCENT

"If you have time, I'd try chicken rice at Maxwell's near Chinatown, for a more traditional food court." - Friends of Iron Mountain

SINGAPORE FLYER

WWW.SINGAPOREFLYER.COM

Singapore Flyer is the one of the world's largest Giant Observation Wheels and is also one of Asia's biggest tourist attractions. It promises a 360-degree panorama view, which captures Marina Bay's skyline and glimpses neighboring Malaysia and Indonesia.

GETTING THERE

The Promenade Station (Circle Line, CC4) provides you with a fuss-free, mere five-minute walk to Singapore Flyer! Take Exit A and look out for blue pedestrian signs to the Flyer.

MARINA BAY SANDS

WWW.MARINABAYSANDS.COM

Marina Bay Sands® is an excellent destination for entertainment, business and shopping, packaged as the pinnacle of luxury. This landmark building is situated in the heart of Singapore's central business district, complete with a luxury hotel, state-of-the-art convention and exhibition facilities, theatres, and some of the best shopping and dining in the region.

GETTING THERE

Marina Bay Sands is linked directly to the Bayfront MRT station (CE2, Exit B, C, D, E) along the Circle Line Extension. There are also numerous bus routes linking the destination to other MRT stations.

RESTAURANTS

DIN TAI FUNG

WWW.DINTAIFUNG.COM.SG

"Great Shanghai dumpling house in Raffles City (where the ICANN conference is). It's a chain, but a good one (Michelin-starred)."

- Sheel Mohnot, Applicant Auction

THE TIFFIN ROOM

WWW.RAFFLES.COM/SINGAPORE/
DINING/TIFFIN-ROOM

You haven't been to Singapore until you've had delightful finger sandwiches here between 3 and 5:30 in the afternoon, for high tea. Don't worry about filling up; you can go for a late dinner."

- Ray King, Top Level Design / ICANNWiki

GREEN EXPLORATION: SMRT SINGAPORE MASS RAPID TRANSIT

"The Singaporean subway system is one of the best in the world. I like to pick a random stop a ways out into the 'suburbs' and wander around. It's a great way of finding street food that you wouldn't otherwise have come across, and also get a sense of what life outside the shining city center is like."

- Andrew Merriam, Top Level Design

NIGHT LIFE

WWW.BIT.LY/SINGAPORENITE

As night falls, Singapore offers a vibrant array of nightlife and entertainment choices. There are nightclubs for the party hedonists to party the night away; bars and lounges for the thirsty hippos and chill cats; and live entertainment venues for the livewire revelers.

WHAT'S A SINGAPORE SLING?

A cocktail created at the Long Bar in Raffles Hotel. Singapore's national drink!

THE ARTICHOKE CAFE

WWW.ARTICHOKE.COM.SG

"I was introduced to the Artichoke by a college professor living and working in Singapore. The Middle East-meets-Europe fusion fare and hip vibe struck me as straight out of L.A., but it's a great example of how cosmopolitan yet homey Singapore can be."

- Andrew Merriam, Top Level Design

ICANN IN SINGAPORE

See ICANNWiki's custom playing card decks for significant milestones for each of these conferences!

ICANN 1 (March 2-4, 1999)

As ICANN's debut public meeting, ICANN 1 was held just 5 months after the organization's formation and laid the groundwork for future conferences.

ICANN 41 (June 19-24, 2011)

ICANN's second meeting in Singapore, ICANN 41 drew about 1,341 participants.

ICANN 49 (March 23-27, 2014)

Leading up to ICANN 49, NTIA announced that it would begin the transition of key DNS functions. This topic dominated discussions within almost all groups at ICANN 49. It would later be known as the IANA Transition.

ICANN 52 (February 8-12, 2015)

ICANN 52 is ICANN's fourth meeting in Singapore. The city was chosen as a back-up after the meeting's original city, Marrakesh, Morocco, expressed concerns about participation from African attendees due to the Ebola epidemic in the region.

DO SOMETHING STRANGE

If you have been to Singapore even once (let alone 3 or 4 times) without seeing Haw Par Villa, then you are truly missing out. The brothers that created Tiger Balm originally made this diorama park in order to teach visitors traditional Chinese values. Fast-forward 75 years, and it is an entertaining hour or two you can spend looking at dioramas large and small. Imagine yourself climbing on crabs the size of pickup trucks. Or witnessing a scene of Hell that is gruesome, in a plastic diorama sort of way. Plus a whole city populated by rats wearing human clothes and leading human lives.

- Andrew Merriam, Top Level Design

RUN & FUN

Running is safe and fun in Singapore; you get to see the famous skyline and share in camaraderie. The ICANN Runners group meets every morning at 6am at the conference hotel and goes out for about 30-45 minutes.

NOTES ON SINGAPORE

The Republic of Singapore is a sovereign city-state and island country in Southeast Asia. With a land area of about 710 square kilometers, it's one of the smallest countries in the world and the smallest in Asia. Singapore has a population of over 5.3 million people and is a bustling cosmopolitan city populated with high-rise buildings and landscape gardens. It is one of the world's major commercial hubs, and owes its enormous economic presence to its free trade economy and highly efficient workforce.

Being a multi-racial society, Singapore is as diverse as it is cohesive. Its cuisine is one well-reputed sign of this, as Singapore offers a wide array of dining options, from Peranakan to Chinese, Indian to Malay, fusion and more – all influenced by nearby countries and beyond. Visitors can also embark on a heritage trail to enjoy the sights and sounds at various cultural precincts, like Chinatown, Little India and Kampong Glam.

FIVE MUST-DOS

1. Take the City Tourist bus (hop on - hop off) and take a seat on the upper deck.
2. Ride on a bicycle rickshaw through the Old Town district.
3. Take a night tour in the Singapore Zoo.
4. Take a boat tour at the Singapore River once it gets dark in the evening.
5. Go to Sentosa Island for the dancing fountains.
