

ICANN

A global organization in charge of governing the systems that make the Internet function.

Wiki

A website which allows people to add or modify its content in a collaboration with others.

MISSION

To educate and give each person on our planet a voice in guiding the future of the Internet.

ABOUT ICANNWIKI

ICANNWiki is a non-profit organization dedicated to the growth, development, and distribution of knowledge surrounding the topic of Internet Governance. We foster greater worldwide input and understanding of how policy is created for the various structures that affect the current and future development of the Internet which we all use everyday.

WHO WE SERVE

CyberCitizens of all ages.

WHY IT MATTERS

The Internet is a big place, and more than 2.5 billion people on our planet use it as part of their daily lives. However, few Internet users have basic knowledge or understanding of how the structures and systems that make the Internet function are designed and implemented. The Internet Governance space is known for being highly technical and obscure, preventing general understanding of the issues involved, which are in fact pertinent to the daily lives of all Internet citizens and those still waiting for Internet access. We work with the community to create fully-referenced fact-based articles, education programs, awareness projects, and resources so that we can all have a voice in the future of the Web.

HISTORY

ICANNWiki was originally founded by Raymond King in 2005, with the belief that a public wiki could be a real benefit to the greater ICANN community. The project debuted at the ICANN 24 Conference in Vancouver, British Columbia.

PROJECTS

ICANNWIKI.COM

Our flagship project, this wiki website is a community-built reference that provides free and neutral information on Internet Governance to all Internet users.

ICANN MEETINGS

ICANN has 3 International meetings a year, and we maintain a presence at all meetings in order to share knowledge about ICANNWiki and engage our community.

COMMUNITY BUILDING

ICANNWiki builds the Internet Governance community by developing resources for new volunteers, engaging in partnerships with institutions, and more.
